

REDUCE,
REUSE, UPCYCLE.

A soft-focus, monochromatic image of a city skyline, likely New York City, featuring recognizable landmarks like the Chrysler Building and the Empire State Building. The sky has a warm, golden-orange glow, suggesting either a sunrise or sunset. The buildings are silhouetted against this bright background.

Sustainably Simple

The concept behind ThriftFlips is that our founder purchases products from thrift stores and finds new, creative ways to bring the piece back to life through processes like re-sewing, reupholstering, painting, etc. These pieces include mostly clothing items, but also feature products such as jewelry, shoes, and small household decor pieces. The owner started ThriftFlips because she wanted to bring sustainability back into retail while also offering unique, upcycled items to a community with such a heavy emphasis on fashion. With that being said, the owner strives to create a brand image of being sustainable, fashion-forward, and one-of-a-kind.
